Hi Adam,

My apologies, I should have emailed you personally regarding the ad.

The Bucknellian certainly supports free speech. If you wanted to send a letter to the editor expressing your views on the Affirmative Action bake sale or advertise your publication without reference to any individual that might be construed as libel, we'd be more than happy to print either. Because your ad crosses a line that could lead to legality issues for the Bucknellian, I can't in good conscience approve it.

If you'd like to ensure your organization's voice is heard in this week's Bucknellian, I would encourage you to contribute a letter to the editor by the end of tomorrow and/or adjust the advertisement. The Bucknellian office doesn't keep regular hours because we're all students, but you're more than welcome to call me [REDACTED] to discuss this further. I have a full schedule of classes and may miss your call, but I'll be sure to call you back.

Thanks for your interest in advertising in The Bucknellian and I look forward to hearing from you soon.
