

4. Medical Records. Medical (including psychiatric and counseling) records shall be subject to professional rules of confidentiality.
5. Disciplinary Records. Access to any student's disciplinary or other records will be governed by the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974. Authorized, identified University officers or faculty members or the student shall have access to disciplinary records. Results of disciplinary proceedings for alleged violations of the Honor Code may be disclosed to the alleged victim of the offense if the offense involved the use, attempted use, or threatened use of physical force against the person or property of another; or is a felony that, by its nature, involves a substantial risk that physical force may be used against the person or property of another in the course of committing the offense. On each occasion that student disciplinary records are initiated or added to by an officer of the University, the student affected shall be informed of the entry and apprised of these stipulations. Student disciplinary records maintained in the Office of the Student Attorney General shall be accorded the same protection and guaranteed confidentiality as those in University administrative offices. Disciplinary files and records of cases shall be maintained as provided by this Instrument.

III. Student expression

- A. Confidentiality of Unpublicized Views and Associations. Information about student views, beliefs, and political associations acquired by professors in the course of their work as instructors, advisors, or counselors is confidential, and is not to be disclosed to persons outside the University except under legal compulsion.
- B. Freedom of Publication. A currently enrolled student or officially recognized University organization may publish material on campus without prior approval. Such publications shall be subject to all applicable protections available under relevant policies and laws.
- C. Right of Peaceful Protest and Free Access. All members of the University community shall have the right of peaceful protest. Any lawful organization may recruit personnel at the University. All members of the University community shall have access to these organizations, and other members of the University community shall not interfere with the right of any individual in the University to participate in arranged interviews with that organization's representatives, or with the rights of such representatives.
- D. Freedom of Speech. The University embraces and strives to uphold the freedoms of expression and speech guaranteed by the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution. The University has the right under appropriate circumstances to regulate the time, place, and manner of exercising these and other constitutionally protected rights.

Amended on July 25, 2017, this Instrument of Student Judicial Governance and the policies and procedures therein supersede all previous versions, statements and policies of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, as may appear in any University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill publication. For the most updated version, please visit: instrument.unc.edu. The University reserves the right to amend these policies and procedures from time to time pursuant to Section VII. of this document.